ANNOUNCEMENT.
I hereby announce my candidacy for re-election to the office of county superintendent of schools of Scott county. Annual school meetings, Tuesday, April 6.
CHARLES D. HARRIS.

I take this method of announcing myself a candidate for the office of school superintendent of Scott county at the annual school meetings, Tuesday, April 6.
M. ELMER MONTGOMERY.

AMONG THE SUBS.
While the 20th of January found us one ahead, the end of the month caught us eight behind for the same month last year. Whether this was due to the very bad weather at the close of the month, or to that "unprecedented prosperity" I do not know.

Tom Swafford writes from the coal regions of Benton, Ill.: "We are having so much Democratic prosperity that work is scarce and money scarce, and stuff so high you can't reach it with a 45 foot pole. I work until midnight and then sit up and read the Kicker. The first thing the kids say in the morning is, 'Papa, did you read the Kicker? She's a hummer!'"

Col. N. Dabbs, of Morley, an ex-Confederate soldier and an old resident of the county, who for fifty years fought, bled and almost died for "the party," renews his subscription, has the Kicker sent to his daughter, Mrs. H. D. Lynn, Moundville, Mo., and writes, "I have been confined to my room since last spring and the Kicker is always a welcome visitor."

S. S. Babb, a former citizen of this county, but now of Malden, writes, "I would rather do without my meat a week or two than do without the Kicker."

Lawrence Polst, of Prices Land, Ing: J. L. Strayhorn of Neelyville, and several others permitted their subscriptions to lapse, but as soon as they missed a copy they came across."

It is such evidence of appreciation that makes my work easy—even if it isn't very profitable.

ABOUT THE TEACHERS.

Why is it that so little attention is given to the underpaid school teachers? They are the basis upon which a free government rests. To the extent that we encourage public schools, to that extent do we guard against tyranny and despotism. In no other way does despotism and oppression exist in the public school system. All tyrants are opposed to education of the masses.

Look at Mexico, at Spain, at Austria and Russia. In these countries there are no public schools and the masses can neither read nor write. What little education exists is among the ruling class. If education is good for the masses, why is it not also good for the workers?

The newspapers and public men give a great deal of attention to the liquor question, the tariff, currency and a lot of other junk, but do you ever see or hear of them urging a living wage for school teachers? Hardly. And for this reason: Powerful influences are at work in this country to destroy the public school, or to make them as ineffective as possible, and your newspapers and "statesmen" fear to antagonize their power.

I believe the teachers of Scott county are better paid than in most counties. Yet the average pay of the rural teacher is around $50 per month, or about $400 for a term of eight months. How is a teacher to live a year on that? They can't do it. During vacation season, when they ought to be studying, they must seek other employment to make ends meet.

In the schools of the towns some of the teachers are paid around $100 per month—$800 for eight months. Many people think this is too much. Yet these same people will march and shout and vote for a less competent man to get four times as much for wearing out the seat of his pants in an office of the court house.

Teachers must come up to a required standard of knowledge before they are permitted to teach. To reach this standard requires both work and expense. They must be of approved moral character. Nothing of the sort is required of an official. On the other hand, the less character he has, the better his chances for an office, as a rule.

When we consider the work required to attain the rank of a school teacher, the clothes and the standard of living required, he or she is paid less than the man who works in a sewer—or the housemaid. Yet no voice of protest is heard from those in control, who seem satisfied with the job of boosting their own pay.

HERE AND YONDER.

Whether it was the editor of the Illinois Implicate or the fisherman that inhibited too freely I have no way of knowing. But the Implicate printed this story in its last issue: "A man named Geo. Welcher, living near Commerce on the Illinois side of the river, reports the champion fish story of the season. He was in Ilmo Monday and was telling of a strange looking fish he caught in the Mississippi river Saturday. He said he had always heard that one could catch fish by breaking the ice near the shore and dropping in a line, so last Saturday he tried it. He had been fishing but a short time when he landed something which he describes as having a head like a dog, but the body was like a fish; but where the fins should be were what looked like wings which the fish could open and close. It had a tail like the tail of a cat, with fur on it just like a cat, and on which the water seemed to have no effect. Near the end of the tail there were three prongs each with different colored fur on them: one being white, one blue and the other a sort of yellow like the color of a mud catfish. In the mouth was one tusk about two inches long; the eyes, if the fish had eyes, were located in the tip of the tail, and instead of having two eyes it had three. Mr. Welcher stated he had no trouble landing the fish which, as soon as he got him on the bank, commenced to bark like a dog. He said he would ship the what-to-it to the Smithsonian Institute for them to name."

A few years ago it was common to hear of an annual deficit in the postal department of about thirty million dollars. When the government went into the parcel post business we were told by the smart men that it would bankrupt the government. We have had it but three years and the annual deficit is no more. It says, "What is no more is some of the grafting express companies and those that remain are not 'shut out' as they used to be. Here is a very clear illustration of what the Socialists want. They don't want to confiscate or divide up anybody's property. All they want is to stop the bleeding of the people by private individuals—just as the parcel post is doing to the express companies. The same can be done by the railroads, the banks and like institutions."

Thursday morning of last week Preston Emerson of Morley committed suicide by shooting himself with a shot gun. Mr. Emerson was employed with the Revenue Co. and for several days had appeared morose. Various rumors as to the cause are assigned. One is that he had invested in land and was heavily involved financially. Another and the more probable reason, is that his mind had become unbalanced over religion. He committed the act at his home during the brief absence of his wife at a neighbor's. It appears that he placed the muzzle of the gun to his side and discharged it by pushing the trigger with a stick of stove wood. He leaves a widow, who was the mother of the late Joe Mason and three small children. He was about 37 years old.

Oklahoma bankers are alarmed. A half dozen daring and successful bank robberies have occurred in that state recently. So long as only the cotton farmers were being robbed, the state remained inactive. But when the banks began to suffer, then the state got busy. First the legislature appropriated $15,000 to be offered as rewards for the robbers. Now the legislature is asked to establish a system of mounted rangers to chase the robbers out of the state. Why don't the bankers take care of themselves by offering their own rewards and putting out their own mounted rangers. They believe in "individualism." Yet when they want anything they run to the state—just like a fool Socialist.

The Kicker is the only paper in the state that has exposed the organized effort of the newspapers to get on a "dignified basis" by saddling themselves on the backs of taxpayers through legislation. Not a newspaper attempts to explain or defend this grab that they are trying to get the legislature to hand them. It is so "raw" that it seems they are themselves ashamed to tell about it. Why do they now combine and ask the state to take care of them? Shucks! That would destroy their holy "individualism." It won't work. It never has been and never will be. Besides, it's agin religion, will destroy the home and foster free love. Cut it out.

Amos Acord of Crowder and A. A. Evans of Morley were here Saturday. Mr. Acord reported that a man named Hardy from Grays-

Ridge had been found dead at the water tank at Morehouse that morning. The inquest was being held at Mr. Acord left. According to Mr. Acord the man was about 35 years old, well dressed and had left Grays Ridge the day before, saying he would look for a job. The father and son arrived at the inquest and said that the young man left with $54 in his pocket. No money was found on him, but his watch and chain remained. His hat was up on the water tank while his body lay on the ground below.

It rained Saturday and Sunday Monday morning W. A. Miller came into the Kicker office and asked, "What do you know?" "Don't know anything," he replied. "Yes, I do," he quickly replied, "I know that the strikers are in worse condition than when I came here nine years ago, and I guess there has been seven or eight thousand dollars spent on them."

Some bone-head over in the Colorado legislature has introduced a bill, the purpose of which is a very patriotic one. Strikers resisting the tools of the employers called "peace officers" and state troops would be guilty of treason and the punishment death. Emil and August Leduc of Pleasant Hill were in Benton Tuesday. Emil says he with his family are going to Colorado in March and has advertised a sale of his personal property for March 10.

The new county court began its regular session Monday. It is the first entirely Republican county court that has met in Scott county for more than forty years. The proceedings will appear next week.

J. C. Walker and Wm. Canham of Commerce were Kicker callers Tuesday.

Uncle John Sanders is sick.

CONFISCATION.

From the Memphis Socialist. Socialists are often asked the question: "How are you going to get possession of the industries?" That question was supposed to be a sockdologger. It is so no longer. Most any Socialist can answer that question now. And the funny part of it is the sanctified have shown us ungodly Socialists the way.

Whenever we Socialists get the power we may do as the prohibitionists are doing. The prohibitionists are confiscating the values of the breweries, destroying or attempting to destroy millions of dollars' worth of property. That is confiscation with a vengeance.

When we Socialists get the power we may go to the exploiters of men, women and children, to the cotton mills, to mines and to all places where the worker is robbed of the fruits of their labor, and have these slave pens declared a public nuisance and then "our" attorney general will get out an injunction restraining the exploiters of labor from operating.

It's all very simple. We believe a cotton mill where children of tender age are stunted in growth, and robbed of all the beauties of childhood days, a greater nuisance than the saloon.

We thank the prohi's for showing us the way.

HE FOLLOWED DIRECTIONS.
His relatives telephoned to the nearest florist. "The ribbon must be extra wide, with 'Rest in Peace' on both sides, and if there is room, 'We Shall Meet in Heaven.'"

The florist was away and his new assistant handled the job. There was a sensation when the flowers turned up at the funeral. The ribbon was extra wide, indeed, and on it was the inscription:

"Rest in peace on both sides, and, if there is room, we shall meet in heaven."
